

PURSuing A CAREER IN INTERNATIONAL LAW IN A TIME OF COVID: NETWORKING AND INTERVIEWING ONLINE

February 25, 2021
12:00 pm – 1:00 pm ET

The process for building your professional network and interviewing for international law jobs in a fully virtual environment can be uncertain at best, but the Office of Career & Professional Development and The American Society of International Law are here to help. Guest speaker Wes Rist will discuss the steps that students can take while still in law school to help develop their contacts, build a community of individuals invested in their professional development, and prepare for virtual interviews.

Wes Rist is the Deputy Executive Director at the American Society of International Law (ASIL), publisher of Careers in International Law, a practical guide to pursuing the practice of international law.
